Stand Weeding Out—Democratic Caucus Called for April 1—Henry of Texas to Be Chairman of Weeding Out and Means Committee.

Washington, March 6.—The rules committee, one of the most powerful of the house committees of the Sixty-second congress, with representatives of Henry of Texas at its head, was formally created by the new house yesterday. The following were announced as its first members:

There was some discussion by the committee on the programme of task revision. The committee is deliberately carrying over that matter, which is the greatest task before it, and expects to complete this consideration in time to report to congress when after it convenes on April 6.

ners of the committee. Robert Lee Henry, Texas; Edward W. Poe, North Carolina; John W. McMillan, Virginia; James E. Keene, Kentucky; E. J. Garrett, Tennessee; Martin D. McMillin, Illinois; and Matthew E. Denver, Ohio.

Republicans will not be allowed to sit on the committee. The four republican members will be chosen by the republican caucus alone. The committee will consist of the following members: the local personnel of committees in the house and senate, the state committee, which is charged under caucus

May Cut Off Official Dandies.

One of the things the committee has considered is the possibility of cutting off the salaries of the capitol, mostly the wardens of the capitol. There are wardens of a hundred or more. Some have married attached to them at the capitol. The committee will believe that a wedding out of the union ones might save $100,000 a year.

The committee has not yet passed on the committee. The committee has beyond those of ways and means and rules, but in many instances more so.

dium with the function of selecting the committees, is not empowered to name the chairman, but it will recommend to the new rules committee that it elect a chairman, which is tantamount to designation at this time. The members of the rules committee were named in the order of the seniority of service.

Henry a Member of Eight Congresses.

Chairman Henry has been elected to eight congresses, was once mayor of Texas, and also served as governor of Texas, and has performed notable service on the house judiciary committee. He will meet tomorrow to confer over its preliminary work.

Thompson testified in New York in 1934 that he had been a grocery store driver who recently struck for uniform hours.

Thompson, on the question of a general strike, will be taken by delegates of the various local unions at a meeting in New York City. The effort by the grocery drivers to press their case to a settlement with the Hocking pool is being made, he said, and he will announce the result of this final effort in conference with the employers at the end of the month.

Thompson said that the strike would be unfavorable to the leadership of the union.

ers say they will tie up all the trucking business in the city.

Ever Ready to Strike.

The leaders of the drivers ascertained tonight that almost every teamster in the city was ready to strike, if necessary.

An incident in the acute situation was the discharge tonight of Edward Stokes, an ambulance driver at the Hudson street hospital, where he was on duty as a teamster.

Stokes was discharged for aiding the striking grocery drivers, and Miss Gifford was told that the hospital was so short of men that she should renege him within half an hour. She refused to do so, and they quit.

An orderly was persuaded to file an appeal for help, and was sent to the New York hospital. The New York hospital sent a man to drive the ambulance, and was told to do so when he learned the situation.

He had heard of the trouble over night and wanted to "get out," he said. Mr. Keene knew nothing of it until he saw the man in the street. He had stock in his own safety vault in the Produce Exchange. After the collapse he bought back two hundred shares of the stock at 25, he said. He had a $5,000 account with a trust company and owned 342 shares in different railroad companies, he said, but balked at stating his salary.

Finally he wrote the amount on a slip of paper and handed it to the referee.

Stikes. Eugene McCarthy, a delegate of the United Teamsters of America, who has attended all the meetings of the striking grocery drivers since the strike, said tonight:

"From the recent feeling of the drivers a general strike is most likely unless the grocery firms come to terms. In the event of a general strike being called, it will be one of the worst strikes New York city has ever experienced, and it will be fought by the union to a bitter end."
